

READING • between the • WINES 2010

Connie May Fowler is an accomplished novelist, memoirist and screenwriter, whose newest book, How Clarissa Burden Learned to Fly, will be released April 2. Her novel, Before Women had Wings, was made into a movie by Oprah Winfrey.

Gerald Posner is an award-winning author of investigative nonfiction. He is a New York Times best-selling author and finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in History. His latest novel, Miami Babylon, chronicles Miami's colorful history.

Introducing our authors this year will be Bob Morris, a former newspaper columnist/humorist who writes mysteries that take place in Florida and the Caribbean. His latest novel, Baja Florida, was released in January 2010.
